HAN Coordinators' Daily Report

September 24, 2001

To All HAN Coordinators:

On behalf of the CDC Health Alert Network Command Center, we again thank each of the HAN Coordinators for your continued assistance.

To ensure that we stay in touch electronically each day, we will continue to inform you of activity at the HAN Command Center approximately every 24 hours. The Health Alert Network Command Center has sent a contact message like this every day for nine consecutive days.

There have been no health alerts/advisories/updates since the September 14 CDC Health Update - End of Week Report. We continue to solicit your feedback, comments, and suggestions for preparedness and communications. If you have initiated your own health alerts/advisories/updates within your state to your local health agencies/jurisdictions and other partners, please share your successes with us.

The Command Center can be reached by E-mail at healthalert@cdc.gov or by phone at 770-488-8251.

CDC's 24/7 Emergency Hotline is 770-488-7100 and access to CDC via the Web can be gained at www.hhs.gov.

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) protects people's health and safety by preventing and controlling diseases and injuries; enhances health decisions by providing credible information on critical health issues; and promotes healthy living through strong partnerships with local, national and international organizations.
